HONGKONS, JUNE 19TH, 1882.

THE question of immigration continues to be the question of the day in Hawaii. Labour is urgently needed, and of all the sources of supply China is the most in favour with the planters, chiefly because the supply is largest and most certain. The Portuguese from the Azores are much appreciated as a useful would permit them to emigrate; and by are sought after. But, as we have said. there are difficulties in the way of securing face, and if they are wise they will not leave what that race will be composed of. The Hawaiian Government should come to some definite decision, if possible, and offer distinct advantages to the immigrants they wish to attract. The Chinese are sure to find their way to Honolulu whatever happens, if not direct from China, then by way of San Francisco. If the Hawaiian Government decide, however, to seek the main portion of their immigrants from China we believe little difficulty will be placed in the way, though perhaps special or direct sanction to the patch-vessel Vigitant, with Admiral Willes on

On Saturday night an amateur theatrical en tertainment was given by the officers of the Buffs at the Garrison Theatre. There was a large attendance of men from the regiment. The programme consisted of a comedicate and a farce. The former is a very amusing and lively little production, which we believe has not been played here before. The curtain rises upon the front of a travelling show with Mrs. Muggine, the wife of the proprietor of that establishment, and Polly, professionally known as Madamoiselle Angelique, engaged in washing. Soon after, Tuffins appears, and in answer to Polly's request to relate her history, he informs her that he found her, when an infant, in a basket he used in a performance. The clown of the show, Jim Juniver, a forager of provisions, who has a knack of "finding" the things required, is in love with Polly, and his jealous spless is white, who, smitten by her charms, has joined the show, handing over his small stock of worldly wealth to the proprietor. The Times has foreseen from the first that the cloture would form the grave of the present Administration, and at once. declared implacable war against it. Regarding this Irish question, it produces a splendid article, which I shall adopt, as it expresses my views in terms far beyond my capacity to express with equal force. It sets forth, that even if it be true that the deed was done by American-Irish desperadoes we cannot forget that Mr. Parnell has boasted of consolidating the alliance between the Irish in America and those at home. Agrarian a itation has profited by the aid of Fenianism. Ribbonism, and whatever is hostile to the law and Government, and its promoters cannot save themselves from the consequences of such alliances. Mr. Parnell and his friends have been credited with the power of preventing outrage, their co-operation in restoring posce and order has been solicited, or at all events Mr. Gladstone has information that it will be forthcoming subject to certain conditions. What is the meaning of this transaction P. It implies in the first place a cynical avowal, that hitherto the Land League party have not done what, henceforward, if they obtain certain concessions, they are prepared to do. It is clear that this rocasting of the Land Law will be only the first act of the tragic comedy. The national claims which Mr. Parnell has never disguised will be put forward, and the refusal will be met with the old weapons. In another article the Times says :- If the national party professes to be at war there is absolutely no chance but to accept their own view of the case. War has often been carried on with less bloodshed and less misery, Who can answer for the effect upon half the military force of the empire, compelled to exhibit themselves like the troops on the stage of a theatro-the daily jest of ruffians and murderers?

Mr. Gladstone, in reply to a question in the House of Commons, declined to give a pledge that force would not be reserted to in Egypt The entents between France and England was, he said, as close as during the Crimean war.

LONDON, May 27th, Parliament has adjourned for the Whitsuntide recess until Thursday.

LONDON, May 31st. - tributions since the Dublin assassinations. CATRO, May 26th.

The Diplomatic Agents of England and France have delivered their ultimatum to the President of the Council of Ministers, demanding the temporary removal of Arabi Pasha from Egypt and the removal into the interior of those Colonels who participated in the military emoutes, all to retain their present rank and pay. The ultimatum also demands the resignation of the present Ministry.

The ministers have rejected the ultimatum, and refer ed France and England to the Sultan. the different Agents. The ultimatum has been accepted however by the Khedive, and the ministers have tendered their resignation, which the Khadive has accepted. CAIRO, May 27th.

The Khedive has assumed chief command of the army. The Generals openly urge his deposition and demanded the reinstatement of Bottled at the Seltzer-Spring near Gross Kar- many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-Arabi Bay within twelve hours. The Khedive has refused to comply.

CAIRO, May 28th. The state of affairs continues to be slarming. and anarchy prevails. The Khedive, yielding to the prayers of the Notables and the threats of the military has reinstated Arabi Pasha. A Turkish Commission is being sent out from Constantinople to Egypt. It is believed that the Porte desiring to intervene secretly supported the military party. St. PETERSBURG, May 29th. The coronation of the Czur is postponed until next May; meanwhile three commissioners are appointed for the purpose of drafting a scheme for the representative institutions.

TANGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service MANILA ROPE, AMERICAN OAKUM, this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been | NENT, Clasgow, and Messrs, David Corsar & compelled to coin to express the numerous ob. Sons, Arbroath. 1[826 jects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vust margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :- DER DONKEY ENGINE, 4 Small BOILERS. Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 2 STEAM WINCHES, 2 LAUNCH'S ENGINES, Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-Cations and equivalents of different words which NTATURAL GERMAN SELTZER have one general meaning. Of these examples in sizes from f to 21 inch. this work contains more than five times as

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to!its 336 pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Enropeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which ROOMS 20 AND 21; MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested
